

Part 3: Model Answer

Do you think that it's good to give chocolate as a gift?

For sure. Chocolate is a great gift to give. The best thing about chocolate is that you have lots of different flavours and sizes. For example, you can buy someone a small bar of dark chocolate if you get invited round for dinner, or you can buy someone a big box of expensive chocolates if it's someone's birthday. There's basically a type of chocolate that works for any occasion, which makes it a great gift.
